FINANCE AND TRADE.

THE FINANCIAL POSITION IS unchanged; plenty of money in the banks, but a woeful want of it in circulation-business is dull, with no signs of spring impetus to set the drays rushing and the packages rolling to the boats and the rallroads. Exchange was in moderate supply at unchanged rates: New York par buying, † premium selling; Boston and other eastern cities par; New Orleans | discount. For gold the brokers were paying 1101. In consequence of some steps taken by the city council with a view to receive city coupons for taxes, there was some inquiry after currency. sixes, but there are none offering. Thre was a sale of $600 county at 90c, and of a small lot of comptroller's warrants at 98c. Arkansas scrip is on the market, brokers offering to sell at 58c, but we hear of no demand for it.

THE MARKET was without spirit yesterday. There was some inquiry, but buyers generally objected to the ask- high prices cannot be realized. Eggs ings as high; we believe they were generally within the quotations of the cotton exchange, as given below, and these quotations show Memphis cotton at this moment to be below those of Savannah, ers. Cotton could readily be sold at late figures, though suy advance on those prices causes duliness. As an illustration how the market really stands, it may be said that Tole is bid for 'short the 'spot' quotations. This shows in what an unsettled state the market is. Toward the close there were reports that private advices from Liverpool were quite favorable. The receipts at the ports show a considerable falling off as compared with this day last week. For future delivery there were moderate transactions at higher prices, the busimess being mainly in April and May."

We condense the following from the New York Chronicle of March 7: A eature of the receipts this week is that the arrivals for the seven days at the interior ports are 622 bales less than for the same week of last year. This has been construed by some as evidence of the exhaustion of the supply, and indicating that the receipts at the vement for the corresponding weeks We cannot agree with this conusion. Our information is quite positive that there is more cotton in the interior than there was a year ago, and though it may for a time be held back on account of the low prices, we do not see how, during the balance of the season, the present excess in the port re-celpts can be diminished; we think it much more likely that there will be a still further increase.
